STATUS OF MILITARY FORCES NEAR THE SINO-SOVIET BORDER

25X1D

1. A search of all portions of the Sino-Soviet Border covered on KEYHOLE [redacted] was accomplished in accordance with the prescribed procedure of analysing each new mission in an attempt to determine possible changes in the type or level of military activity occuring within a 150 nm radius of the border.

Inclement weather precluded the analysis of significant portions of the border that had been programed for photographic coverage. Approximately 15% of the border area was covered by fair to excellent quality photography.

WAC 203

POZDEYEVKA MILITARY ACTIVITY (50 34N-128 52E)

A previously unreported military installation is located on the northwest edge of Pozdeyevka. Immediately west of this installation and just NW of the Pozdeyevka Airfield is a flat trajectory firing range.

25X1D

The firing range facilities consists of at least 5 probable moving targets, a probable APC vehicle run, and one support building. Small scale and obliquity of the photography preclude a more detailed analysis of the barracks and vehicle maintenance areas. Comparative photographic analysis of this area indicate that the firing range was constructed between [redacted]

WAC 204

BIROBIDZHAN ARMY BARRACKS (48 47N-132 53E)

This installation appears to have a medium level of activity. A new POL storage facility, in a late stage of construction, is located adjacent to the barracks area on the SW. This new POL area is rail served and contains 10 small, 7 medium, and 2 large storage tanks. The motor pool area containing 17 vehicle/equipment storage buildings, approximately 40 trucks, and 25 canvas covered vehicles appears to have a medium level of activity. [redacted]

WAC 240

KYZYL PROBABLE MILITARY INSTALLATION (51 41N-094 24E)

A probable military installation is located on the south edge of Kyzyl. Facilities include barracks, storage/support buildings, and vehicle storage buildings.

A probable subcaliber flat trajectory firing range is located approximately 2 km south of Kyzyl, and an early warning radar site is located approximately 3 km west of the town. A small airfield suitable for light aircraft is adjacent to the south edge of the town. All
25X1D facilities appear to be active. [redacted]

WAC 243

HU-TU-PI (CHINA) HF RADIO STATION (44 07N-086 49E)

25X1D A large electronic transmitting/receiving facility, reported as under construction in [redacted] now appears complete. This facility is located approximately 3 km south of Hu-Tu-Pi and it is approximately 25X1D 75 km NW of Urumchi and 350 km SE of the Druzhba Military installation (USSR). [redacted]

WAC 244

AYAGUZ MILITARY ACTIVITY (47 57N-080 23E)

A military installation is located on the west edge of Ayaguz. Significant items of interest at this installation include a TALL KING
25X1D radar, 5 radar mounds (4 occupied), a SAM support facility with associated equipment, an electronics communications facility, 3 small arms firing ranges and 49 probable tanks. [redacted]

WAC 282

POGRANICHNYY ARMY BARRACKS SOUTH (44 23N-131 21E)

This installation appears to maintain a medium level of activity and no significant changes to facilities are apparent. The motor pool area contains 9 probable tanks, 10 probable APC's, 19 possible tanks/APC's, 25X1D and approximately 70 trucks of varying size. [redacted]

WAC 283

ANG-ANG-CHI (CHINA) MILITARY ACTIVITY (47 10N-123 57E)

An abandoned airfield located approximately 3 nm ENE of Ang-Ang-Chi is currently being used as an infantry training area. Three combination obstacle course/subcaliber firing range training areas have been constructed on the airfield site adjacent to the runway. A barracks area and additional training facilities are located immediately west of the old runway. The area
25X1D appears active. [redacted]

WAC 330

a. URUMCHI (CHINA) NEW AIRFIELD UNDER CONSTRUCTION (Approx 44 00N-087 00E)

25X1D

An airfield, new since [redacted] is under construction approximately 50 km NW of Urumchi. F cilities include an approximately 8,200 ft. NW/SE probable concrete runway, an operations building with control tower, and other support facilities still under construction. No aircraft were observed. (Note: This is one of three new airfields currently under construction and nearing completion in northern Sinkiang--Urumchi, Hami 42 51N-093 32E, and Chiu-Ho-Shih 42 10N-087 13E.

25X1D [redacted]

b. URUMCHI (CHINA) MILITARY INSTALLATION (43 49N-087 39E)

A probable military installation is located immediately east of Urumchi and north of Ti Hua No. 2 Airfield. Facilities include approximately 30 buildings, a flat trajectory firing range and approximately 200 unidentified vehicles. This area appears to have a high level of activity.
